Why Are We Delegating the Application Intake/Eligibility Determination?

To create a one-stop shop at each property for residents by:

- Connecting eligible households with real time unit availability
- Eliminating redundancy in data collection and applications
- Create uniformity and consistency in data requests and collection
- Allowing applicants better predictability and expectation for qualifying and locating a unit

To minimize the administrative burden on property managers by:

- Allowing for the processing an MPDU application once and at the same time that property application is being processed
- Put properties in control of when the unit is leased
- Create uniformity and consistency in data requests and collection
- Eliminating the time spent verifying and matching the information applicants provide to the properties and the city

Why Are We Delegating the Application Intake/Eligibility Determination?

To allow city staff to better administer and monitor the program

- Staff can dedicate more staff time monitoring the program
- Staff can dedicate more time providing technical assistance to property managers—i.e., training; information sharing and updating program changes
- To work with you and continue to adjust the program to make it better

Program Background

- ❑ The fundamental goal of the city's Moderately Priced Dwelling Unit Law is to provide affordable housing throughout the city.
- ❑ The MPDU law requires that all new developments with 50 or more units contain a minimum of 12.5% to 15% of MPDUs.
- ❑ The MPDU law was adopted in 1990, and applies to both homeownership and rental developments
- ❑ There are currently close to 780 MPDU rentals
- ❑ The program has created 420 homeownership units since inception
- ❑ Rental and homeownership units have 30 year control period.
- ❑ Alternative Payment (i.e., in-lieu fee) are another option for developers to meet MPDU requirements. Option has not been exercised as of yet.

Recent Program Changes

- Parking fees—Occupants of MPDU units can be charged no more than 50% of the parking fee assessed to market rate renters for the first spot in any structured parking. Full amount can be charged for subsequent spaces.
- Senior housing with services—rent calculation for such products
- Expanded income band and rent calculation—incomes were expanded to include up 120% of AMI.
- Rents are also calculated at 30% at the various income levels up to 120% of AMI.

The last two are applicable to properties placed in service after June 2018.

What Does “Affordable” Mean?

- Housing is considered affordable when a household spends no more than 30 percent of gross income on rent or mortgage costs (including utilities)
- 2018 (current) Area Median Income (AMI) for the Washington, DC Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area is $117,200 for a household size of 4.
 - Set annually by U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Data is released in March/April of each year
 - The city uses these AMIs to arrive at MPDU maximum income levels

Household Size	Maximum Income
1	49,200
2	56,300
3	63,300
4	70,300
5+	75,900

- Current income minimum is $22,000.
- Minimum income levels to be based on 2.5x MPDU rent, adjusted by bedroom count (proposed changed)

Calculating MPDU Rents

- In general, the MPDU rent is set at a level so that a qualified household pays no more than 25 percent of its monthly gross income on rent (not including utilities).
- Units delivered before 2018 have rents based on 60% of AMI for all units types. One rent schedule set exactly at 60% of AMI.
- For units coming online after 2018, rents will be calculated at 30% at various AMIs (chart in later slide).
- These initial MPDU rents are agreed to in an MPDU Offering Agreement (or Rental Agreement), which is signed by the property owner and the city at the time the property files for building permit.
- Initial MPDU Rent for each unit is set by the MPDU Offering Agreement.
- Rent cannot be increased until the unit has been occupied by a tenant for a period of 12 months.

Calculating MPDU Rents

- ☐ Each year in June, the city publishes the MPDU rent and income schedule.
<http://rockvillemd.gov/836/Affordable-Rental-Housing>
- ☐ An MPDU tenant's rent cannot be increased beyond the MPDU rent schedule.
- ☐ Tenants must be given 90 notice of a rent increases.
- ☐ An MPDU can only receive one rent increase each year.
 - 2018 (current) MPDU rents

1	1,125
1+den	1,196
2	1,262
2+den	1,334

MPDU Offering Agreement Schedules

- The MPDUs are the specific units listed in the Offering Agreement and MPDU Covenants are recorded in Land Records for the specific units.
- In certain circumstances, units can be swapped (and re-recorded) with written permission of the Department.
- Future consideration: City may consider making MPDUs floating versus fixed set of unit

Eligibility Criteria

To be eligible to rent an MPDU:

- The household's gross annual income must be below the current maximum rental income limit, based on household size;
- The number of people in the household must equal or be greater than the number of bedrooms in the unit;
- The occupants must not have owned real property in the past 5 years
 - Applicant certifies that s/he has not owned property in the past five years on certification form
 - Tax Return – look to taxes to see if rent income is claimed or mortgage interest is listed as a deduction
 - Waiver – the Department may grant waivers of this requirement under certain circumstances; must request written waiver

Determining Eligibility to Rent an MPDU

Prospective tenant must:

- Complete Certification Form
- Submit two most recent Federal tax return and W-2s
- Submit most recent pay stubs—two pay cycles
- Submit additional documentation, if needed

Note:

- Each adult prospective occupant for an MPDU must complete Certification Form, and submit tax returns and pay stubs
- A verification of non-filing of a tax return is needed from any adult who indicates that they did not need to file taxes last year

Household Income

Income is defined as the gross income received annually from all sources by all wage earners in a household, including, but not limited, the following:

Wages and salary

Child support

Alimony

Interest income

Dividends from stocks and bonds

Social Security benefits

Veterans Administration benefits

Overtime pay

Unemployment insurance benefits

Bonus payments

Pension and retirement payments

Long-term Disability benefits

Any other annuities or stipends received

Calculating Income

Two methods to determine an individual's income from employment using an individual's paystubs.

Method 1 – Year-to-Date Earnings

Average the gross year-to-date earnings based on the time period through the year to date.

Method 2 – Paystub Averaging

Average the gross incomes from the paystubs and multiply by the frequency of pay.

NOTES:

- Gross income includes vacation pay, sick pay, shift differential, commission, and overtime. Applicant may be able to prove that over-time and/or bonuses are unusual and not consistent.
- Tax returns are not used for wage and salary income verification although looked to for unearned income such as retirement benefits.
- For new employment, an individual can submit a Verification of Employment form from an employer.

Person does not file Taxes

<http://www.irs.gov/Individuals/Get-Transcript>

A Verification of non-filing of a tax return is needed from any adult who indicates that they did not need to file taxes last year. This would occur usually when one of the applicants works and the other applicant indicates they do not work, such as non-married couples, friends, parent and adult child. An exception would be if the adult is 25 or younger and is a dependent of his or her parent. In that circumstance, it is unusual that the dependent is providing financial support to the household.

Social Security Benefits

<https://faq.ssa.gov/ics/support/kbanswer.asp?QuestionID=3705>

A proof of benefits letter is required by adults over the age of 62 when they indicate they do not file taxes.

Household Size

Households are only eligible to rent a unit with the appropriate number of bedrooms, as shown in the chart below:

Household Size	Maximum # of Bedrooms
1	1 BR
2	2 BRs
3	3 BRs
4	4 BRs

- Only those persons listed on the lease may live in the MPDU.
- Federal income tax returns can be used to confirm household size and non W2 income.
- A parent can include in their household their child even if they do not have full custody. A birth certificate must be submitted if the child is not listed on their taxes.
- If dependent is not in direct relations to any adults in the household (Child of parent), documentation of legal custody is required in order to include dependent as an occupant.

RHE Voucher (AKA: Section 8) Holders and other Rental Assistance Programs

- The Rockville Housing Enterprises (RHE) and the Montgomery County Housing Opportunities (HOC) voucher programs as well as other Rental Assistance Programs complements the MPDU Program.
- The amount of rent covered by RHE, HOC or other rental assistance programs would probably not allow voucher holders to rent most market rate units in many areas of the County.
- A portion of the tenant's rent is subsidized by the voucher and guaranteed, the landlord would only need to determine whether the household's income is sufficient to pay whatever their portion of the rent is, as well as utilities.
- HOC voucher holders would need to convert or “port over” their voucher to RHE. HOC voucher holders should be referred to RHE.

Recertifications

- MPDU renters must be certified every year with each lease renewal.
- MPDU renters must remain at or below income limits for continued occupancy.
- The household size must still comply with household size requirements or move to an appropriate unit size as one becomes available.
- A household may be required to vacate a MPDU if the number of persons in their household changes.
- For MPDU tenants not wishing to sign a 12 months lease, tenant must be given 90 days to either renew their lease or vacate as tenants can't be charged a month-to month lease with a premium.
- If the tenant fails to provide the re-certification information within 30 days, the landlord must issue the tenant a 60 day notice to vacate the unit for failing to submit the recertification form and required documentation.
- If the tenant is no longer eligible due to income or household size, the landlord must issue the tenant a 90 day notice to vacate the MPDU.

Compliance Review & Monitoring

What will staff do now that they are not processing MPDU applications?

- ✓ Continue to monitor program
- ✓ Provide technical assistance to property managers
- ✓ Communicate new program rules
- ✓ Continue to review program requirements and refine it as necessary
- ✓ Work with tenants and property managers to resolve issues

Annual Compliance Review & Monitoring—What are we looking to monitor?

What will we review

- Ensure that incomes are calculated accurately
- Ensure that correct rents are being charged
- Review other non-rent fees—i.e., parking fees
- Ensure that there's an appropriate match between household size and bedroom count; and that occupants match application
- Ensure that appropriate notifications are being provided to tenants—i.e., rent increases; vacate notices

The following documents must be kept on-site for each MPDU:

Certification Form (completed each year)

- Renters Agreement Form (completed each year)
- Lease Addendum (signed at initial leasing)
- Income verification form and back-up documentation (submitted each year)
- Lease Agreement

In addition, certain forms and reports must be sent to the city:

- Signed Renters Agreement Form
- Rent roll for MPDUs (quarterly)
